

I am writing on behalf of United 4 The People of Ukraine (U4TPOU), a 501(C)(3) non-profit organization headquartered in Atlanta. Our mission is to provide access to remote education for every Ukrainian child by collecting, shipping, and distributing computer hardware and cellular phones across Ukraine.

At U4TPOU, we recognize the vital importance of education, especially during challenging times such as the ongoing war in Ukraine. With this purpose in mind, we have partnered directly with Ukrainian non-profits to ensure that every donation we receive is channeled directly into the education sector of Ukraine. Our ultimate goal is to ensure that Ukrainian children can continue their learning journey, even amidst the adversities of war.

We have taken significant strides towards achieving our mission by collaborating with reputable organizations to bring used technology hardware from U.S. corporations directly to Ukraine. Once in Ukraine, these laptops, tablets and cellular phones undergo meticulous refurbishment and are updated with current software before being distributed to Ukrainian students within zones impacted by war.

We have come to learn that your esteemed organization regularly updates your employees' hardware and is left with a surplus of used laptops and cell phones. These otherwise underutilized resources represent valuable opportunities to make a difference in the lives of countless Ukrainian children. Moreover, we understand that managing used inventory, shipping expenses, and discarding costs can be financially burdensome.

Hence, we extend an earnest request to partner with your company in this noble cause through tax-deductible donations of your used hardware. Our dedicated team can efficiently arrange the pick-up of your hardware from anywhere in the Atlanta area, or alternatively, you may choose to ship your used equipment to our secure warehouse located in Stone Mountain, GA. Here are the details for your reference:

Should you find this proposition aligning with your company's values and philanthropic initiatives, we kindly ask you to contact our sales team at 404-532-9676. Our team will be delighted to assist you in scheduling a delivery or pick-up at your convenience.

By collaborating with us, your company will play an instrumental role in empowering Ukrainian children with access to remote learning opportunities and contributing to the betterment of their future.

We look forward to a meaningful partnership that will bring about a positive impact on the lives of many.

Thank you,
